

DHA NEW WRITERS' OPEN WEEK

APPLY BY MONDAY 26TH OCTOBER 2020

At David Higham Associates we are looking to open out the ways in which we connect with new writers from under-represented backgrounds.

This November, we are inviting everyone who applies to our Open Week to a series of virtual events from industry experts aiming to demystify the publishing industry.

Apply online with:

- the first three chapters of your work
- a one/two page synopsis
- a completed application form

In January 2021, 20 finalists will be invited to further exclusive sessions with editors, authors and agents, including a 1-1 feedback session with a world leading literary agency.

Applications are open to LGBTQ+ writers, writers of colour, writers from working-class backgrounds, writers from ethnic, cultural and religious minorities and writers with a disability.
